

Submitted by Ryan Titley on Fri, 08/30/2019 - 11:57

Co-Creation

- Home
- Node
- Co-Creation

Co-creation in UNaLab

The UNaLab project will develop a common Living Lab framework, tools and approaches for the front-runner cities that can be extended and implemented in the follower cities and elsewhere, with the objective of creating genuine European reference Living Lab environments. The common Living Lab framework and tools will, through training, enable the cities involved in the project to become Urban Living Labs to demonstrate NBS at the European level.

Learning Material

Latest Updates

Latest Updates

• Wed, 18/09/2019

The second prototype of the Urban Living Lab Playground Game was tested at two events over the summer period: held in June and the in the beginning of

- Wed, 18/09/2019

The Urban Living Lab (ULL) training, hosted in connection to the OpenLivingLab Days conference, offered the UNaLab cities the opportunity to follow a full-day training on Living Lab methodologies.

- Wed, 18/09/2019

In UNaLab, a wide range of co-creation tools and methods have been used across the different urban demonstration areas to explore, design, implement and evaluate the nature-based solutions (NBS) that will help the